French and Spanish will be available to study at National 4, National 5 and Higher levels in the Senior Phase. Students in S4 are most likely to sit either National 4 or 5 French or Spanish, progressing to National 5 or Higher in S5/6.

French / Spanish N4
REQUIREMENTS	All students can study French or Spanish at National 4 level, if they have already followed the Broad General Education in Modern Languages from S1-S3.
COURSE CONTENT	At National 4 Level, there are three Units. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Understanding Language: This is about the ability to READ AND LISTEN to written and spoken French or Spanish.</li> <li>2. Using Language: This is about the ability to TALK and WRITE in French or Spanish.</li> <li>3. Added value: This is about the ability to READ AND LISTEN to the language while researching a topic, and then WRITE AND TALK about the topic in a presentation. This may already have been covered in S3.</li> </ol>
ASSESSMENT	At National 4 level, there is no final examination. The course is internally assessed across the 3 units by the department, with the possibility of external verification by the SQA.
PROGRESSION / NEXT STEPS	Students who are successful at National 4 are encouraged to take the study of the language further, building on the skills they have developed. Alternatively, they could look to undertake a National 4 course in the language they did not already choose to study. Pupils may also apply the knowledge gained in a variety of employment contexts, such as Travel and Tourism. Pupils may wish to discuss relevant work experience/placements with Faculty staff and their Guidance Teacher.

French / Spanish N5
REQUIREMENTS	Entry is flexible. Most pupils will be in a position to work towards National 5 at the end of S3, but a pass at National 4 level is also acceptable. National 4 and 5 level pupils are taught together in the same class, and it is possible to move between levels.
COURSE CONTENT	The content of the course is similar to National 4. Students are however expected to demonstrate the ability to manipulate language at a more sophisticated level, for instance writing about an event in the past, accessing texts of about 200 words in the foreign language, and talking at greater length.
ASSESSMENT	At National 5 level, pupils are not expected to undertake internal assessments. The course is assessed by means of exam, and by an assignment. Each of the four elements of reading, writing, talking and speaking are equally weighted, with each being worth 25% of the overall grade. In the May exam, pupils will be assessed in three areas. Component 1 – question paper: Reading and Writing (37.5% of final grade) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Writing (20 marks) – the pupil will compose one written text in response to a stimulus, supported by six bullet points which must be addressed.</li> </ol> Component 2 – Listening (25% of final grade) The Listening paper has 20 marks assigned to it. The pupil will listen to two texts in the modern language (one monologue, one dialogue) and will be expected to respond to questions in English. During term 3, pupils will undertake their Talking exam. This is worth 30 marks, and accounts for 25% of the total grade. Pupils will be expected to deliver a presentation in the modern language, followed by a conversation with their teacher. The talking exam is graded internally, with marks submitted to the SQA. There is a possibility that the talking exam might be externally verified.

PROGRESSION / NEXT STEPS	Pupils may wish to gain more expertise in the foreign language by studying the Higher course in the language. Alternatively, they may wish to undertake a National 5 qualification in the language that they did not study. Pupils will also find their knowledge of the language invaluable in a variety of employment contexts such as Travel and Tourism, the Oil Industry and Hospitality industries.

PROGRESSION / NEXT STEPS	In a global context, only 6% of the world’s population speak English as a first language, with 75% being unable to speak any English at all. It is therefore important to have an awareness of global languages and cultures. Learning a language not only allows pupils to develop a better understanding of this, but also to improve self-confidence and enhance their literacy, problem solving, interpersonal and communication skills, as well as increasing their employability skills. Employers are increasingly seeking personnel who can operate in different languages. This is particularly evident in the areas of oil based jobs and business management. A second (and third) language not only gives prospective candidates an advantage, but it also provides them with the confidence to learn other languages. Closer to home, in the tourism and hospitality industries, competence in a foreign language is a great asset on a variety of levels. Universities are also recognising the importance of languages and are routinely offering placements in European cities, providing a multicultural experience that is highly valued in a highly competitive job market. Universities are also increasingly encouraging more of their students studying in fields such as science and business to also consider studying a language, such is the global nature of today’s world. Learning languages encourages diverse thinking in young people, and encourages them to consider a broader view of career options and job opportunities. It also facilitates their ability to engage with a rapidly developing landscape of work/career and learning opportunities. The list of jobs that could be relevant to those with a working knowledge of languages is endless, but career pathways include: Receptionist, secretary, cabin crew, hospitality and tourism industries, banking, marketing, sales, teaching, translation, interpreting, lecturing, research, engineering, journalism, event management, editing and publishing, international aid worker, diplomatic services and charity work.
